

SID ISRAEL

Promoting Israeli Action in Global Development and Humanitarian Aid

A composite image of Earth from space, showing the curvature of the planet and the blue oceans. Overlaid on the image are several glowing green lines and spheres. Two lines arc across the top of the frame, connecting points on the horizon. Another line arcs from the left towards the center. Three glowing green spheres are positioned at various points along these lines, suggesting energy or data points. The overall effect is one of global connectivity and technological advancement.

01

Community Building

We empower our community by fostering collaboration, building expertise, connecting them with international opportunities, and increasing their access to funding. This strengthens their resilience during a time of shrinking global development resources.

02

Policy Impact and Advocacy

We develop evidence-based policy recommendations and advocate for their implementation, helping to build bridges with the international community. Given Israel's current isolation, it is vital that we increase public sector awareness of international development and humanitarian aid, and advocate for increased government funding for these vital initiatives.

03

Public Awareness and Education

To ensure a strong Israeli presence in international development and humanitarian aid, we actively work to build broad public awareness, involvement, and understanding. By doing so, we can effectively support our community, promote impactful policies, and cultivate the next generation of leading Israeli professionals in the field.
